

Leadership priorities

Our leadership priorities give focus and direction to our work. They are areas where it is vital for WHO to lead — the key issues which stand out from the body of our work.

WHO values

WHO has been at the forefront of improving health around the world since 1948.

Health:

is a state of complete physical, mental and social well-being, not just the absence of disease or infirmity is the fundamental right of every human being, everywhere is crucial to peace and security depends on the cooperation of all individuals and States should be shared: extending knowledge to all peoples is essential

WHO directs and coordinates international health by:

providing leadership on matters critical to health shaping the health research agenda defining norms and standards for health articulating policy options for health providing technical support and building capacity to monitor health trends